Slovak MP Peter Kotlár says that mRNA vaccines contain genetic material capable of modifying human DNA. A person in whom this “vaccine” DNA has integrated with their own DNA is a genetically modified organism, he said.

Dr. Peter Kotlár, a Member of the Slovak Parliament who was appointed to lead the government's investigation into covid, held a press conference on Thursday saying that in some cases the DNA content in mRNA injections was higher than mRNA and that humans who had been injected with so-called mRNA vaccines are officially classified as genetically modified organisms. Kotlár also said that he had informed the heads of the US HHS and the FBI about their findings:

“My primary task is to uphold the Constitution, and as a doctor, I have the duty and the right to protect the health of Slovak citizens. Yesterday, I also informed the US Minister of Health and Human Services [HHS] by letter, Mr. Robert Kennedy Jr., who confirmed receipt. Furthermore, the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation [FBI] Kash Patel and Pamela Bondi, the US Attorney General, were also informed.

“34 batches from Pfizer and Moderna have been analysed so far, which were stored according to the proper cold chain and only those that were used for the Slovak population during the covid-19 epidemic. Today, I will present the most significant result of the analysis.

“The results of the analysis of all, I repeat, all analysed batches proved that in every single vial, there is an extremely high amount of DNA, a vector that encodes the cassette for the synthesis of the S-protein, if not other proteins as well. Almost in the same amount as mRNA, DNA is also present there. In three cases, the DNA content is even higher than the mRNA. This can no longer even be considered an mRNA vaccine. This genetic code for the synthesis of the S-protein, this information stored in this DNA, is stable compared to mRNA, can integrate into human nuclear DNA, and subsequently, such a human organism becomes – I'm not afraid to say officially – a genetically modified organism.”

As Aussie17 noted, “DNA contamination has now been found in 11 independent laboratory tests, with this one being the first official government acknowledgement.”

Pandemic-Vaccine Industry in a Panic

In January 2024, Prime Minister Robert Fico appointed Dr. P Peter Kotlár to lead an investigation into what happened during the covid era. “The Slovak public simply needs an answer. Needs an answer about vaccination, what it actually was. Why people were vaccinated with various experimental vaccines. Why all sorts of drugs were pushed into people,” Mr. Fico said.

In October 2024, Kotlár’s report was submitted to the government. He then gave a press conference.

The report’s findings upset and seemingly panicked the pandemic-vaccine industry. The Slovak Spectator wrote: “Recently, the government received his report, compiled in collaboration with disinformation agents, which controversially recommends halting the use of mRNA vaccines in Slovakia.”

The Slovak Spectator went on to list all the people and organisations that were attempting to bury Kotlár's findings. The Health Ministry has also dismissed Kotlár's conclusions. Scientists at the Virology Institute of the Biomedical Centre of the Slovak Academy of Sciences have expressed deep concern over Kotlár's statements, urging the government to handle his report with extreme caution to avoid isolating Slovakia from the international community.

The attacks on Kotlár continue. In response to Kotlár's press conference on Thursday, Euractive wrote, "Slovak MP Peter Kotlár ... has long been known as an anti-vaxxer, who spreads disinformation about the covid-19, even questioning that Slovakia never had a pandemic but was a victim of 'bioterrorism'.

As The Slovak Spectator had done last year, Euractive mustered up "experts" in a desperate attempt to debunk Kotlár's statements. Infectious disease specialist Peter Sabaka dismissed Kotlár's suggestion that vaccinated people were "genetically modified," stating that the genetic information in mRNA-based vaccines does not integrate into human cells. Slovakia's State Institute for Drug Control ("ŠÚKL") repeated the "safe and effective" mantra. "All assessments and analyses conducted on mRNA vaccines by European medicines agencies have confirmed the efficacy, safety and quality," ŠÚKL spokesperson Martina Štesková said.

Some Slovak politicians are also attempting to silence Kotlár. Euractive highlighted that one MP has accused Kotlár of having no evidence, misusing his position and insulting "scientists, healthcare workers, and pandemic victims." The opposition party KDH (EPP) called on Prime Minister Fico to remove Kotlár from office. "The party warned that spreading misinformation about mRNA vaccines could worsen public health crises in the future," Euractive said. And a day before Kotlár's press conference, President Peter Pellegrini urged the government to focus on an objective review of pandemic measures rather than conspiracy theories.

The false narrative that vaccines are "safe and effective" has been in its death throes for years. And there is only a minority of people who still believe the "safe and effective" mantra and spurious claims of "conspiracy theories" to silence those who challenge the pandemic-vaccine industry's false narratives. The minority will not be enough to save those who push harmful and ineffective "vaccines" onto the public. And history will not be kind to The Slovak Spectator and Euractive, as well as the "experts" and politicians they quote who are desperately attempting to keep the crimes of past "pandemics" hidden and their hopes for future "pandemics" alive.
