JOHN DeCAMP & PAUL BONACCI

In 1988, Nebraska state senator John DeCamp began looking into the failure of the Franklin Community Federal Credit Union in Omaha, Nebraska. He soon discovered that the credit union was involved with a network of ritual child abusers. DeCamp won a million-dollar lawsuit on behalf of one of the abuse victims in 1999. In his Memorandum of Decision, Judge Urbom, who was in charge of the case, wrote, "He [Bonacci] has suffered burns, broken fingers, beatings of the head and face and other indignities by the wrongful actions of the defendant King.... He is a victim of multiple personality disorder, involving as many as 14 distinct personalities aside from his primary personality."

Bonacci specifically named Congressman Barney Frank (D-MA) as having participated in sex parties that minors attended. Bonacci also told the judge he (Bonacci) had "relationships with him (Frank)" in Washington, DC and was flown to Massachusetts for sex in the basement of Frank's Boston home.... Homosexual prostitution inquiry ensnares VIPs with Reagan, Bush

By Paul M. Rodriguez and George Archibald
© 1989 THE WASHINGTON TIMES

A homosexual prostitution ring is under investigation by federal and District authorities and includes among its clients key officials of the Reagan and Bush administrations, military officers, congressional aides and U.S. and foreign businessmen with close social ties to Washington's political elite, documents obtained by The Washington Times reveal.

One of the ring's high-profile clients was so well-connected, in fact, that he could arrange a middle-of-the-night tour of the White House for his friends on Sunday, July 4, of last year. Among the six persons on the extraordinary 1 a.m. tour were two male prostitutes.

Federal authorities, including the Secret Service, are investigating criminal aspects of the ring and have told male prostitutes and their homosexual clients that a grand jury will deliberate over the evidence throughout the summer, The Times learned.

Reporters for this newspaper examined hundreds of credit-card vouchers, drawn on both corporate and personal cards and made payable to the escort service operated by the homosexual ring. Many of the vouchers were run through a so-called "sub-merchant" account of the Chambers Funeral Home by a son of the owner, without the owner's knowledge.

Among the client names contained in the vouchers—and identified by prostitutes and escort operators—are government officials, locally based U.S. military officers, businessmen, lawyers, bankers, congressional aides and other professionals.

Editors of The Times said the newspaper would print only the names of those found to be in sensitive government posts or positions of influence. "There is no intention of publishing names or facts about the operation merely for titillation," said Wesley Proben, managing editor of The Times.

The office of U.S. Attorney Jay B. Stephens, former deputy White House counsel to President Reagan, is coordinating federal aspects of the inquiry but refused to discuss the investigation or grand jury action.

Several former White House colleagues of Mr. Stephens are listed among clients of the homosexual prostitution ring, according to the credit-card records, and these persons have confirmed that the charges were theirs.

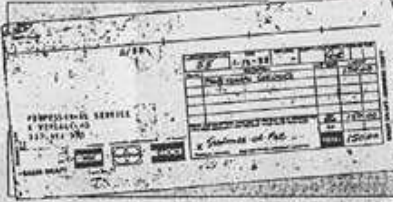

Mr. Stephens' office, after first saying it would cooperate with The Times inquiry, withdrew the offer late yesterday and also declined to say whether Mr. Stephens would recuse himself from the case because of possible conflict of interest.

At least one highly placed Bush administration official and a wealthy businessman who procured homosexual prostitutes from the escort services operated by the ring are cooperating with the investigation, several sources said.

Among clients who charged homosexual prostitute services on major credit cards over the past 18 months are Charles K. Dutcher, former associate director of presidential personnel in the Reagan administration, and Paul R. Bolach, Labor Secretary Elizabeth Dole's political personnel liaison to the White House.

In the 1970s, Mr. Dutcher was a congressional aide to former Rep. Robert Bauman, Maryland Republican, who resigned from the House after he admitted having engaged in sexual liaisons with teen-age male

John DeCamp wrote a book in 1992 about his experiences with the Franklin case. The book's called THE FRANKLIN COVER-UP, and I made some notes when I read the revised 1996 edition. Paul Bonacci figures prominently in the story.

In Chapter 16 of THE FRANKLIN COVER-UP, DeCamp writes that three psychiatrists examined Paul Bonacci and said his Multiple Personality Disorder is genuine. The personalities were originally established, they said, at the exact moments of psychological terror when Bonacci, as a defenseless child, was physically and/or emotionally traumatized. Each personality has a distinctive handwriting. DeCamp says he himself has talked with three of Bonacci's personalities. Each personality recalls different things, so even though one personality may not recall a specific event described by another personality, that does not mean the event did not occur. All three of the psychiatrists who examined Bonacci said he is incapable of lying, and the things his different personalities describe really did happen.

Bonacci's words, From Chapter 10: "...King flew me out on a private plane from Eppley Airfield [in Omaha] to Denver where we picked up Nicholas, a boy who was about 12 or 13. Then we flew to Las Vegas to a desert strip and drove in to Las Vegas to some ranch and got something. Then flew up to Sacramento.... We were picked up by a white limo and taken to a hotel. I don't remember the name of it. We meaning Nicholas and I were driven to an area that had big trees, and it took an hour to get there. There was a cage with a boy in it who was not wearing anything. Nicholas and I were given these Tarzan things to put around us and stuff.... They told me to f--- the boy and stuff. At first I said no and they held a gun to my balls and said do it or else lose them or something like that. I began doing it to the boy and stuff...." After that, Bonacci said, one of the men raped the boy from the cage, then he used a gun and "blew the boys head off." When it was over, they put the dead boy in a body bag and put the bag in the trunk of a car. Everything had been filmed.

Remember, three psychiatrists said Bonacci cannot lie.

In Chapter 21 of THE FRANKLIN COVER-UP, DeCamp says Bonacci told investigators that the ring which introduced him to Satanism was centered at Offutt Air Force Base near Omaha. He said he was taken to Offutt to be sexually victimized by a babysitter's boyfriend when he was about 3 years old--around 1970. Offutt is the headquarters of Strategic Air Command and has thousands of intelligence personnel. Over the years, Bonacci interacted with many military functionaries, chief among them Lt. Col. Michael Aquino. Aquino was reportedly in charge of the Monarch Project for years and an expert in brainwashing, Satanism, Nazism, pedophilia and murder.

There's very little in the public record about government brainwashing programs because the information is classified. But one program that has received public acknowledgement is MK-ULTRA. This program was begun in 1953, and by the government's own admission 149 sub-projects of MK-ULTRA involved drug testing and "other studies" on unwitting human subjects. [Staff Report for the committee on veterans' affairs, 12-8-94] The most notorious of these sub-projects is known by its survivors as the Monarch Project. They say it produced their multiple personalities through trauma and ritualistic abuse.

A BRIEF HISTORY AND OVERVIEW OF MODERN MIND CONTROL

Some excerpts from an article called "Project Monarch: Nazi Mind Control," written by Ron Patton:

The Anglo Alliance

The Tavistock Institute of Human Relations was set up in London in 1921 to study the "breaking point" of humans....

Much of the preliminary experimentation concerning genetic engineering and behavior modification was conducted by Dr. Josef Mengele at Auschwitz [during WWII]...

...parallel behavioral research was led by Dr. George Estabrooks of Colgate University. His involvement with the Army, CID, FBI and other agencies remains shrouded in secrecy. However, Estabrooks would occasionally "slip" and discuss his work involving the creation of hypno-programmed couriers and hypnotically-induced split personalities. [Martin Cannon, Mind Control and the American Government, Prevailing Winds Research, 1994, p. 19]

After WWII, the U.S. Department of Defense secretly imported many of the top German Nazi and Italian Fascist scientists and spies into the United States via South America and the Vatican. The code name for this operation was Project Paperclip. One of the more prominent finds for the U.S. was German General Reinhard Gehlen. Hitler's Chief of Intelligence against Russia. Upon arriving in Washington D.C. in 1945, Gehlen met extensively with President Truman, General William "Wild Bill" Donovan, Director of the Office of Strategic Services(OSS) and Allen Dulles, who would later become the stalwart head of the CIA....

Reinhard Gehlen also had profound influence in helping to create the National Security Council, from which the National Security Act of 1947 was derived. This particular piece of legislation was implemented to protect an unconscionable number of illegal government activities, including clandestine mind control programs.

The Evolution of Project MK-ULTRA

...Project MK-ULTRA came into existence on April 13, 1953 along the lines proposed by Richard Helms, Deputy Director of Central Intelligence (DDCI) with the rationale of establishing a "special funding mechanism of extreme sensitivity." [Final Report of the Select Committee to Study Governmental Operations, U.S. Senate, April 1976, p. 390]

...A host of German doctors, procured from the post war Nazi talent pool, were an invaluable asset toward the development of MK-ULTRA. The correlation between the concentration camp experiments and the numerous sub-projects of MK-ULTRA are clearly evident. The various avenues used to control human behavior under MK-ULTRA included radiation, electroshock, psychology, psychiatry, sociology, anthropology, graphology, harassment substances and paramilitary devices and materials...

Definition and Description of Project Monarch

The name Monarch...refers to the monarch butterfly. When a person is undergoing trauma induced by electroshock, a feeling of light-headedness is evidenced, as if one is floating or fluttering like a butterfly....

...some mental health therapists know it [Monarch programming] as "Conditioned Stimulus Response Sequences." Project Monarch could be best described as a form of structured dissociation and occultic integration, in order to compartmentalize the mind into multiple personalities....

Alters and Triggers

...A file (alter) is created through trauma, repetition and reinforcement. In order to activate (trigger) the file, a specific access code or password (cue or command) is required. The victim/survivor is called a "slave" by the programmer/handler, who in turn is perceived as "master" or "god." About 75% are female, since they possess a higher tolerance for pain and tend to dissociate easier than males. Subjects are used mainly for cover operations, prostitution and pornography; involvement in the entertainment industry is notable. A former military officer connected to the DIA, told this writer, "In the 'big picture' these people [Monarch victims] are in all walks of life, from the bum on the street to the white-collar guy"....

DR. CORYDON HAMMOND'S COMMENTS ON MIND CONTROL

From a lecture, "Hypnosis in MPD: Ritual Abuse," June 25, 1992:

The way you create Manchurian Candidates is you divide the mind. It's part of what the Intelligence Community wanted to look at. If you're going to get an assassin, you're going to get somebody to go do something, you divide the mind....

...What they basically do is they will get a child and they will start this, in basic forms, it appears, by about two and a half after the child's already been made dissociative. They'll make him dissociative not only through abuse, like sexual abuse, but also things like putting a mousetrap on their fingers and teaching the parents, "You do not go in until the child stops crying. Only then do you go in and remove it." They start in rudimentary forms at about two and a half and kick into high gear, it appears, around six or six and a half, continue through adolescence with periodic reinforcements in adulthood....

...Alpha (personalities) appear to represent general programming, the first kind of things put in. Betas appear to be sexual programs. For example, how to perform oral sex in a certain way, how to perform sex in rituals, having to do with producing child pornography, directing child pornography, or prostitution. Deltas are killers trained in how to kill in ceremonies. There'll also be some self-harm stuff mixed in with that, assassination and killing....

Then there's Omega.... Omega has to do with self-destruct programming. Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end....

Question: What's the difference between this kind of program and cult-type abuse and Satanic abuse?

Dr. Hammond: ...Satanism comes in the overall philosophy overriding all of this. People say, "What's the purpose of it?" My best guess is that the purpose of it is that they want an army of Manchurian Candidates, tens of thousands of mental robots who will do prostitution, do child pornography, smuggle drugs, engage in international arms smuggling, do snuff films, all sorts of very lucrative things and do their bidding and eventually the megalomaniacs at the top believe they'll create a Satanic Order that will rule the world....

RAINBOW AND MIRROR IMAGERY IN EYES WIDE SHUT

EYES WIDE SHUT makes heavy use of rainbow and mirror imagery. Alice Harford's fascination with mirrors is a reference to THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS, by Lewis Carroll. The book is a sequel to ALICE'S ADVENTURES IN WONDERLAND. Both books are said to have been used extensively as programming matrices in early trauma-based programming.

Another important piece of fiction said to have been used in trauma-based programming is THE WIZARD OF OZ, with its land located somewhere "over the rainbow." In EYES WIDE SHUT the characters talk about rainbows, a shop called "Rainbow Costumes" is located above another business called "Under the Rainbow," and there are rainbows of Christmas lights everywhere.

The Oz books and the 1939 movie were used early on in mind control programming. Many of the triggers used to control alters (and many of the personal mythologies programmed into newly-created personalities) are taken from THE WIZARD OF OZ. Fritz Springmeyer and Cisco Wheeler have researched various aspects of mind control, and they've noted some connections between THE WIZARD OF OZ movie and the Monarch Project. They make many interesting points, including the following:

- Dorothy becomes unconscious, the world begins spinning, and then she sees disjointed pictures. This also happens to Monarch slaves. Later in the film, Dorothy states, "My! people come and go so quickly." This is exactly what happens to the Monarch slave whose multiple personalities come and go.... Personalities are switched in what are called "tornado spins" or "tornado spinning" and personalities called "spin off" personalities come up according to the number of revolutions the slave is commanded to spin. By spinning the slave, the master can choose what sexual perversion he wants as each "spin off" personality has been trained to carry out a different perversion. [My note here: This puts me in mind of Alice Harford "spinning" in the dance with flirtatious Sandor Svavost near the beginning of EYES WIDE SHUT. She later describes how a naval officer once triggered a desire in her to have sex, so perhaps her dance partner is attempting to do the same].

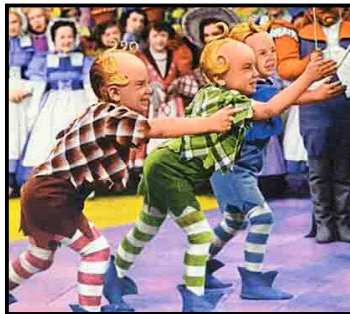

- "Somewhere over the Rainbow...there's a land where the dreams that you dare to dream really come true." These lyrics are a method to hypnotically confuse the brain to perceive that the "over the Rainbow experience" (which is usually horrible abuse) is a "dream". The dissociative mind is only too happy to call the trauma a dream... The term for this is cryptoamnesia...

MARK DAVID CHAPMAN

To continue with the Oz/Monarch observations, one of the more famous of the alleged mind-controlled slaves is Mark David Chapman, the man who killed John Lennon. Chapman's zombie-like behavior at the scene of the crime convinced at least one of the responding policemen that mind-control had been used to carry out the assassination. Chapman strongly identified with THE WIZARD OF OZ movie. Researcher Peter Levenda wrote in "Sinister Forces" that Chapman "was so enthralled with this movie that when he went to New York City to kill John Lennon, he bought a still of the film that he left propped up in his hotel room." Chapman believed that a group of little people (possibly munchkins) ran his life, and the little people abandoned him after he'd killed Lennon. "The movie strip broke," Chapman said, according to Colin Ross in his book "Bluebird."

CHAPMAN / HINCKLEY PARALLELS

Some people believe Chapman's killing of Lennon was just a practice run for John Hinckley Jr.'s attempt on President Reagan's life less than four months later. Both Chapman and Hinckley had been members of World Vision, a company that employed John Hinckley's father.

"...World Vision official John W. Hinckley, Sr. was on his way to a Guatemalan water project run by the organization on the day his son shot at president Reagan." [The Black Hole of Guyana - The Untold Story of the Jonestown Massacre, by John Judge, 1985]

Also on the day Reagan was shot, John Hinckley Jr.'s brother Scott was supposed to have dinner with Neil Bush in Denver. Neil's dad (former CIA Director George H.W. Bush) was vice-president of the U.S. at the time. The dinner was scheduled, but it was cancelled after the shooting took place. This was reported in many newspapers and by the television networks. George Bush would have become President if Reagan had died.

World Vision came into the public eye in a big way in 1978, when their operation at Jonestown, Guyana made the headlines. Jonestown was just one of many World Vision compounds scattered around the world.

According to media reports, 913 "cult members" killed themselves because their "crazy" leader told them to commit suicide. The incident began when U.S. Congressman Jack Ryan went to Guyana to look into what was going on at Jonestown. He was murdered there. Below are more excerpts from John Judge's book:

"...(Ryan) was an author of the controversial Hughes-Ryan Amendment that would have required CIA disclosure in advance to the congressional committees of all planned covert operations....

"Witnesses described them (the killers) as 'zombies,' walking mechanically, without emotion, and 'looking through you, not at you' as they murdered...

"The Hughes-Ryan Amendment (that would have required the CIA to report to congress) was defeated shortly after Ryan's death."

The description of the Jonestown killers as "zombies" suggests mind control.

FINAL THOUGHTS

Trauma-based mind control has been extensively studied by the U.S. government and its intelligence agencies. In trauma-based conditioning, a person is tortured until his or her mind forms a new personality, then that personality is trained to carry out specific tasks. Our government has proven its willingness to torture time and again (just research "Abu Grahیب" and "waterboarding"), and a government that tortures would not be above creating mind-controlled assassins, prostitutes and spies. Evidence of trauma-based conditioning is everywhere, but do you see it, or are your eyes wide shut?

Kubrick's film deals with trauma-based mind control, and maybe he would have told you so himself if he hadn't died unexpectedly just four days after he delivered the film to Warner Brothers. He'd been in good health, and then he was "found dead."
