STARGATE (Remote Viewing Program) Briefing for SAC Staffer Dick D'Amato

SG1I Mr. D'Amato believes CIA is making a good faith effort and understands no decisions will be made until the "blue-ribbon" panel reports in late September. Mr. D'Amato is concerned with the reaction of four Senators and the fate of the DIA personnel assigned to the program. He will call CIA D/OCA [] and CIA EX/DIR [] to discuss an option, pending the study results, of the DIA "viewers" being offered a rotational assignment to CIA studying foreign remote viewing. He believes the STARGATE staff is being poorly used at DIA. [] raised, and Mr. D'Amato understands, the problems of "raising false hopes" that might accompany such an assignment. SG1I

Mr. D'Amato says Sen. Pell is a true believer but is retiring; Sen. Inouye is interested but won't intervene; Sen. Cohen is very interested but not publicly; and Sen. Glenn is interested enough that he might write a letter supporting continued research.

The CIA/DS&T delegation gave an excellent, balanced overview of the project:

The "blue-ribbon" scientific panel assessment that CIA is sponsoring will be completed by 30 September 1995. CIA indicated it will abide by the results of that effort concerning the future of this program.

We believe we have formed a credible panel of experts under the study being managed by American Institutes of Research.

CIA prefers that the DIA personnel associated with the STARGATE program remain in DIA until the completion of the assessment.

[redacted] fixed this to me. I asked him to relay to ~~the~~ ^{them} DIA Congressional Affairs contact the essence of the meeting, ~~the~~ ^{less the} sensitive part (about each Senator thing), and to add that Mr D'Amato ~~has~~ ^{he} told us ~~that~~ ^{that} DIA had not done the foreign emigrant work and had assigned the people to, in few jobs. → ~~we are still considering~~ f DIA personnel to advise that ~~we had been asked by~~ today

SG1J

Mr D'Amato to consider temporary assignments for the people to work on one aspect of his activity. She indicated they had been assigned to ~~DOA~~ jobs, ~~not~~ ~~they~~ that DOA considered ~~these jobs~~ them ^{fairly} employed, and that ~~she~~ understood it might take us some time to resolve the issues.
